Capability Statement

BUSINESS SUMMARY:

Tactical AR500 Targets, INC. is a small business that was founded and incorporated in 2015 by Kirby Sensenig, Ethan Sensenig, and Jared Daub. From the beginning Tactical AR500 Targets has pioneered a new approach to steel targets and range training aids, as well as outdoor and indoor range equipment. Specializing in AR550 steel for high volume departments and training centers, Tactical AR500 Targets offers systems that are designed to offer optimal performance characteristics. From the company culture has come a unique commitment to designing and creating top tier systems while providing support and an unrivaled customer experience. This mindset and approach to business has created a nationwide following and loyal customer base that is growing globally.

FACILITIES AND EQUIPMENT:

Our target systems and components are manufactured on state of the art equipment by fabricators with decades of experience. We utilize multi Axis CNC controlled plasma, laser, and milling machines to perform operations to create our target systems. Fabrication is done by skilled and certified welders utilizing MIG/TIG welders. Fabrication is done in a way that optimizes service life of each and every system. Each target system that is offered has undergone a rigorous design, prototyping, and testing phase to ensure proper function and superior lifespan versus our competitors.

EXPERTISE:

The owners of Tactical AR500 Targets have a vast array of knowledge in the steel fabrication industry. From drafting steel structures to installing HVAC systems and duct work/Air handling equipment, the team at Tactical AR500 Targets has been involved in projects sizing from small to very large in depth operations.
