Overview of RELYANT Global

RELYANT Global is a Service-Disabled Veteran Owned Small Business (SDVOSB) headquarter in Maryville, TN. Established in 2006, the company specializes in Construction, MMR & Environmental Services, and Global Development. We provide our quality services across North America, the Pacific, the Middle East, Africa, and Asia. RELYANT Global is unique in our ability to work successfully in any environment, whether it be populated, remote, austere, or contingency.

RELYANT Global's project experience includes work for US and other governments, commercial, residential and industrial facilities worldwide. RELYANT Global embraces the philosophy to lean forward in even the most challenging environments, while our corporate structure allows us to remain flexible and responsive to our client's needs.

Our hands-on expert, qualified project management staff works efficiently and effectively through all phases of a project while enforcing a strict oversight protocol of project activities to deliver on time results, to budget.

We continue to succeed by operating with one fundamental business concept: our clients are the beginning and end of our reason to be in business. To that end, our most valuable deliverable is our promise to complete what we start in the safest, most efficient manner with the highest quality possible. Highly-rated performance evaluations coupled with steady financial growth and stability hold the promise of future project success. Our commitment to coordinate directly with clients, our reliability in all environments, and our globally competitive rates continue to attract valuable clientele from all over the world.

What Sets Us Apart

Our executive management has a clear direction for RELYANT Global based on current knowledge of challenges associated with contracting in domestic and international environments. Each member of the executive management team holds unique capabilities and expertise that include construction, engineering, military munitions response, environmental remediation, logistics support, and other expeditionary support services. These services, although specialized in a stateside market, intertwine in international environments and emergency response situations where resources are scarce and international standards must be met in conjunction with local regulations and ordinances. Only a small percentage of companies are capable of successfully managing all of these services across multiple environments, and even fewer of those companies are classified as a SDVOSB. The long-term growth initiatives developed by RELYANT Global have continued to flourish since the company's inception; a true testament to our management's passion and vision.
